KEYNOTE SPEAKER, UNDERGRADUATE COMMENCEMENT

VALERIE B. ACKERMAN, J.D. '20HON.

COMMISSIONER, BIG EAST CONFERENCE

Val Ackerman is commissioner of the BIG EAST Conference, the NCAA Division I athletic conference that includes Providence College.

Ms. Ackerman became the fifth BIG EAST commissioner in 2013, following its reorganization as a basketball-centered conference, and led the office relocation to New York City. She manages the conference's partnerships with Fox Sports, which provides game coverage on FOX, FS1, and FS2, and with Madison Square Garden, which hosts the BIG EAST Tournament every March. She also led the negotiations that brought the University of Connecticut, a charter BIG EAST school, back to the conference in 2020.

Ms. Ackerman grew up in Pennington, N.J. She attended the University of Virginia as one of the school's first female student-athlete scholarship recipients and became the first 1,000-point scorer in basketball program history. After graduating with a bachelor's degree in political and social thought, she played a year of professional basketball in France. She then earned a law degree from the University of California, Los Angeles.

After working in a private law practice, Ms. Ackerman joined the NBA as a staff attorney in 1988 and later served as special assistant to NBA Commissioner David Stern and as NBA vice president of business affairs. From 1996-2005, she was the first president of the Women's National Basketball Association. In 2005, she was elected president of USA Basketball, leading the men's and women's teams to gold medal performances at the 2008 Olympics in Beijing. She also served two terms as the U.S. representative to the International Basketball Federation.

In 2010, Ms. Ackerman assisted the National Hockey League in formulating a long-term plan to support women's ice hockey, and in 2013 she prepared a comprehensive white paper for the NCAA on growth strategies for women's college basketball.

In 2021, Ms. Ackerman was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, which presented her with its John Bunn Lifetime Achievement Award in 2008. She was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2010 and serves on its board of directors. She is a board member of Women Leaders in College Sports, a mentor in the U.S. State Department's Global Sports Mentoring Program, and an advisor to the Vatican's Sport at the Service of Humanity initiative.

Ms. Ackerman and her husband, Charlie Rappaport, live in New York City. They are the parents of two daughters, Emily and Sally.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

MARIO R. DINUNZIO, Ph.D. '57

PROFESSOR EMERITUS OF HISTORY DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

Mario DiNunzio, Ph.D. '57, professor emeritus of history, is one of the most distinguished faculty members in the history of Providence College.

Born in Woonsocket, R.I., Dr. DiNunzio arrived at Providence College as a student in 1953 to earn a bachelor's degree in history. His impact on the college's development and trajectory has been indelible. He began teaching at PC in 1960 while a doctoral candidate at Clark University. As an undergraduate, he aspired to a career as a radio announcer, but his experience in graduate school convinced him that teaching was a worthy and fulfilling profession. He became assistant professor in 1964, associate professor in 1968, and full professor in 1974. He was awarded emeritus status upon his retirement in 2009.

From the early days of his career, Dr. DiNunzio took an interest in college governance. He was a founding member and president of the college's AAUP chapter. He served as an at-large member of the Faculty Senate for 30 years, beginning in 1968, and as president for the 1969-1970 academic year. During his Senate tenure, the college undertook some of its most consequential reforms, including the shift to coeducation and the implementation of the Development of Western Civilization requirement. Of the former, he was an enthusiastic supporter. Of the latter, he was an architect. He served as program director from 1987-1994 and two terms as acting director. He has taught DWC for its entire 50-year history and continues to teach a section of honors Civ each semester, even in retirement.

One of his most enduring contributions to the college is the American Studies Program, which he launched in 1980 with Brian Barbour, Ph.D., professor emeritus of English. American Studies remains a popular and rigorously interdisciplinary program.

Dr. DiNunzio is a scholarly authority on the history of the United States in the 19th and 20th centuries. He has published five monographs on United States presidents, political theory, and the New Deal, and contributed to several other books and journals. In 1986, he served as director of research for the Rhode Island Constitutional Convention.

He faithfully served the college on a number of administrative committees and working groups, including five terms on the committee on academic rank and tenure.

Dr. DiNunzio and his wife, Joan DiNunzio '84SCE, who reside in North Smithfield, R.I., have two sons, Joseph DiNunzio '90 and Thomas DiNunzio '92, '97G, and two grandchildren.

ROBERT G. DRISCOLL, JR.

VICE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Robert G. “Bob” Driscoll will retire next month after leading the Providence College athletics department for 21 years, a period of extraordinary competitive success and broad-based impact.

A visionary and strategic leader, Mr. Driscoll has inspired a generation of Friar coaches, staff members, and student-athletes to rally around the goals that comprise his description of the athletics department mission: being the most respected athletic program in the country, graduating every student-athlete, and competing for championships. By every measure, his tenure has been one of the most successful in Friar sports history.

The stellar performance of the 2020-2021 men’s basketball team, which won the BIG EAST regular season title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament Sweet Sixteen, capped a period of competitive success that included NCAA championships in men’s hockey (2015) and women’s cross-country (2013). The current student-athlete graduation rate is 97% and Friars collectively contribute thousands of hours each year to support worthy community causes. Taken as a whole, this work represents an extraordinary level of achievement in competition, the classroom, and the community.

Part of Mr. Driscoll’s enduring legacy will be a complete overhaul of the college’s athletics facilities, beginning with the Concannon Fitness Center in 2007 and continuing through the $35 million, 58,000-square-foot Ruane Friar Development Center in 2018. The latter is home to the men’s and women’s basketball training facility and the Sports Medicine Innovation Lab, a state-of-the-art health and wellness center available to PC’s 350-plus student-athletes.

He began his career in athletics administration in 1975, serving as assistant athletic director while coaching the baseball and hockey teams at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y. From there, Mr. Driscoll moved to California, first working as athletic director at Mills College in Oakland (1981-87). After 14 years in athletics administration at the University of California, Berkeley (1987-2001), he returned to his native New England and Friartown, an enduring moniker that Mr. Driscoll coined early in his Providence College tenure.

A standout athlete himself, Mr. Driscoll is a member of the inaugural class (1993) of the Concord-Carlisle (Massachusetts) Athletic Hall of Fame, recognizing his contributions in football, hockey, and baseball. In 2019, he was inducted into the 50th anniversary class of the Athletics Hall of Fame at Ithaca College, from which he earned both a bachelor’s degree (1974) and master’s degree (1975). He has twice been recognized as Under Armour I-AAA Athletics Director of the Year and, in 2020, he earned the Division I-AAA Athletic Directors Association Builders’ Award.

Mr. Driscoll and his wife, Cathy, have three grown children, including Sean Driscoll ’09, ’11G.

JOHN W. FLYNN '61

TRUSTEE EMERITUS, PROVIDENCE COLLEGE
VICE CHAIRMAN/CFO (RETIRED), FLEET FINANCIAL GROUP
DOCTOR OF COMMERCIAL SCIENCE

John W. “Jack” Flynn ’61 rose through the ranks of the banking industry to become vice chairman and chief financial officer of Fleet Financial Group.

One of the college’s most generous benefactors, Mr. Flynn has given to PC every year since his graduation. He and his wife, Joan, established the George P. and Anna M. Flynn Endowed Scholarship in honor of his parents to primarily benefit Rhode Island students with unmet financial need. The Flynnns are members of the 1917 Society, which recognizes lifetime giving to PC, and have made a planned gift to the college.

A lifelong resident of Warren, R.I., Mr. Flynn participated in the initial class of the Liberal Arts Honors Program at PC and graduated summa cum laude with a degree in accounting. Following graduation, he became a certified public accountant and worked as a senior accountant for Ernst & Ernst for six years while also seeing active duty in Germany as a sergeant in the Army Security Agency. He then was controller of Pearson Yachts, a manufacturing company based in Portsmouth, from 1967-1969, at which time he joined Fleet. Eventually responsible for Fleet’s accounting and control, audit, capital markets, legal, public finance, public policy, and treasury-money management functions, he took early retirement in 1993.

Mr. Flynn taught at PC as Fleet Executive in Residence and Adjunct Visiting Distinguished Professor from 1993-1999. He served on the PC Board of Trustees from 1994-2001 and has been a trustee emeritus since 2004. He chaired the Annual Fund from 1990-1991 and also served on the Liberal Arts Honors Leadership Council, the School of Business Advisory Council, and the Providence President’s Council. Mr. Flynn received the Faithful Friar Award from PC’s National Alumni Association in 2016 and was awarded the Mal Brown Award by the NAA’s Greater Providence Chapter in 1992.

His involvement in his hometown of Warren was recognized with a Lifetime Achievement Award in 2015. A former member of the Town Council, Mr. Flynn is a member and inaugural chair of the Warren Athletic Hall of Fame and the author of A Diary of 101 Years of Warren Athletics. He is a Knight of Malta and has been a trustee, auditor, lector, and religious education teacher (40 years) at St. Alexander and St. Mary of the Bay churches in Warren.

The Flynnns are the parents of three daughters and eight grandchildren, one of whom will enter PC in the fall as a member of the Class of 2026.

MOTHER OLGA OF THE SACRED HEART

FOUNDER AND MOTHER SERVANT, DAUGHTERS OF MARY OF NAZARETH
DOCTOR OF DIVINITY

Mother Olga of the Sacred Heart is the founder and mother servant of the Daughters of Mary of Nazareth, a Roman Catholic religious order in the Archdiocese of Boston. She was entrusted with the mission of founding the community in 2011 by Cardinal Séan Patrick O'Malley, O.F.M. Cap.

Born in Kirkuk, Iraq, into the Assyrian Church of the East, Mother Olga Yaqob lived through four wars in the Middle East. She earned a bachelor's degree in biology from the University of Erbil in 1990, then taught Aramaic and worked in young adult faith formation. In 1993, as a young lay woman, she started a movement called Love Your Neighbor, through which young Christians and Muslims served the poor in war-torn areas. In 1995, she established the Order of Marth Maryam Sisters — Missionaries of the Virgin Mary, the first order of religious sisters in the Assyrian Church in 700 years. She served as a superior of the community until coming to the United States in 2001.

After receiving a master's degree in philosophy and theology from Babylon College, affiliated with the Pontifical Urbaniana University in Rome, in 2000, Mother Olga came to Boston to pursue a master's degree in pastoral ministry at Boston College. While there, she became involved in campus ministry at Boston University, eventually becoming university chaplain for BU's Roman Catholic community. She was received into the Roman Catholic Church on Sept. 8, 2005. Cardinal O'Malley received her perpetual vows three months later.

In 2009, Cardinal O'Malley blessed her new apostolate, Nazareth House, a house of discernment for young women, on the BU campus. She also served as director of parish outreach for the Archdiocese of Boston Pastoral Center from 2011-2012.

Mother Olga has received numerous awards and honors, including Religious Sister of the Year from the Boston Catholic Women's Conference and the Saint Paul the Apostle Award from the Office of the New Evangelization of Youth and Young Adults of the Archdiocese of Boston. She received an honorary Scarlet Key Award from BU in 2011. In 2015, Cardinal O'Malley presented her with the Cheverus Award at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. In 2018, she received the Assyrian American National Federation Humanitarian Award and the Saint Edmund's Medal of Honor. She also was honored with the Bowie Kuhn Special Award for Evangelization at the Legatus 2012 Annual Summit.

SALLY JANE THIBODEAU, Ph.D. '66G

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE DEAN OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES, ASSOCIATE VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATION,
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF EDUCATION (RETIRED)
DOCTOR OF EDUCATION

Sally Jane Thibodeau, Ph.D. '66G holds the distinction of being the first woman appointed assistant dean of undergraduate studies at Providence College. She spent 23 years in the Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies before her appointment as associate vice president for academic administration in 1994.

A native of North Providence, R.I., Dr. Thibodeau received a bachelor's degree in history-secondary education from Mount Saint Mary College in Hooksett, N.H., in 1964. She arrived at PC that fall as a part-time student in the newly formed graduate program while teaching full time in the Smithfield, R.I., school system. In 1965, she was the first woman awarded a graduate assistantship. As a full-time graduate student, she completed a master of arts degree in history in 1966, then taught high school in Providence.

Dr. Thibodeau received a master of library science degree from the University of Rhode Island in 1976 and a Ph.D. in higher education administration from the University of Connecticut in 1993. In 1976, she also received a certificate from the first Higher Education Resource Services Summer Institute for Women in Higher Education Administration, held at Bryn Mawr College.

In 1997, Dr. Thibodeau chose to return to full-time teaching in the undergraduate school's secondary education program, eventually becoming program director in 2007. As associate professor of education until her retirement in 2009, she taught in all three divisions at the college — undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education. She also taught in the master's program at Rhode Island College and in the doctoral program at Johnson & Wales University.

She contributed her time and expertise on numerous committees. From 1972-1978, at the direction of College President Rev. Thomas Peterson, O.P. '51,'85Hon., she organized and chaired the Women's Liaison Committee, which advised the president on issues directly impacting the integration of women into the campus community. In 1974, she was the first woman appointed to the Committee on Administration, now the President's Senior Cabinet. In 1994, President Rev. John Fabian Cunningham, O.P. '50 appointed her as the college's representative to the NCAA Division I Academic Review Teams. She chaired and was a member of seven such nationwide review teams.

Dr. Thibodeau also served the Rhode Island community with gubernatorial appointments to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council and the Rhode Island Board of Medical Licensure and Discipline.

She resides in Jamestown, R.I.

THE HONORABLE OJETTA ROGERIEE THOMPSON

CIRCUIT JUDGE, U.S. COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FIRST CIRCUIT HONORARY DOCTOR OF LAWS

The Honorable Ojetta Rogeriee Thompson is the first Black person and the second woman to serve as a judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, comprising Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, and Puerto Rico. She was nominated by President Barack Obama in 2009 and unanimously confirmed by the U.S. Senate. The circuit courts are one level below the U.S. Supreme Court in the federal judiciary.

Judge Thompson has long been a trailblazer in the legal profession. She made history in 1988 when Gov. Edward DiPrete appointed her a judge on the R.I. District Court. She was appointed a judge on the R.I. Superior Court nine years later, becoming the first Black woman to hold both positions.

Judge Thompson grew up in segregated South Carolina. Her great-grandmother was an enslaved person on a plantation owned by her great-grandfather. She came to Rhode Island to study at Pembroke College, then the women's college of Brown University, graduating from Brown in 1973. She earned a juris doctor degree from Boston University School of Law in 1976.

Before becoming a judge, she had a law career with Thompson & Thompson, McKinnon and Fortunato, and Rhode Island Legal Services, and was assistant city solicitor for the city of Providence.

An author and consultant, she has served on numerous committees and boards, including the Board of Fellows and Committee on Diversity and Inclusion at Brown University, the Rhode Island Save The Bay Leadership Council, the Roger Williams University School of Law Board of Directors, and the South Carolina African American Heritage Commission.

Judge Thompson received the Trailblazer Award from the Massachusetts Black Lawyers Association, the Honorary Chairs' Award for Lifetime Achievement in the Humanities from the Rhode Island Council for the Humanities, the Women of Achievement Award from the YWCA of Northern Rhode Island, and the Dr. Americo W. Petrocelli Distinguished Service Award from the College Crusade of Rhode Island. She holds honorary degrees from the University of Rhode Island, Bryant University, Roger Williams University School of Law, Johnson & Wales University, and Brown University.

In late 2021 Judge Thompson announced plans to take senior status, a form of semi-retirement, once her replacement has been announced by President Biden.

Judge Thompson and her late husband, R.I. District Court Judge William C. Clifton, were the parents of three.

THE HONORABLE MAUREEN MCKENNA
GOLDBERG, J.D. '73, '09HON.

JUSTICE, RHODE ISLAND SUPREME COURT

The Honorable Maureen McKenna Goldberg, J.D. '73, '09Hon. has been a justice of the Rhode Island Supreme Court, the state's highest court, for 25 years.

Justice Goldberg was born in Pawtucket, R.I., and grew up in a family of seven children in East Providence. Following her graduation from St. Mary Academy Bay View, she enrolled at Salve Regina University, then transferred to PC when it began accepting women as undergraduates in 1971. She studied secondary education-history, graduating cum laude in 1973. She then taught reading and social studies to third and fourth graders at Bishop McVinney Elementary School in Providence.

Justice Goldberg left teaching to attend Suffolk University Law School, earning her doctor of law degree with honors in 1978. She worked as a prosecutor for R.I. Attorney General Dennis Roberts. In less than two years, she was one of two women appointed assistant attorney general, a first for the state. She later became administrator in the criminal division. After her service in state government, she worked in private law practice. She served as town solicitor in South Kingstown and in Westerly, where she also was interim town manager, and as special counsel to the Rhode Island State Police. Gov. Edward D. DiPrete appointed her a justice in the Rhode Island Superior Court in 1990. In 1997, she was appointed to the Supreme Court by Gov. Lincoln C. Almond, becoming the third woman to serve on that court. The state's highest court, it consists of a chief justice and four associate justices, all of whom serve lifetime appointments.

Justice Goldberg has served on the board of directors of the Rhode Island Foundation, St. Mary Academy Bay View, and Phoenix Houses of New England. She received an honorary doctor of laws degree from PC in 2009. She also has been awarded honorary degrees from Suffolk University, Roger Williams University Law School, Johnson & Wales University, and Bryant University. In November 2021, Justice Goldberg returned to PC to join her classmate, Karen Holland '73, '84G, '96Ph.D., in a panel discussion hosted by the Department of History and Classics as part of the college's celebration of the 50th anniversary of women.

Justice Goldberg and her husband, Robert Goldberg, a former Rhode Island state senator and Senate minority leader, reside in Matunuck, R.I.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia, rooted in traditions that began at 12th century European universities, conveys historical significance and specific meaning to contemporary academic ceremony. Often lacking buildings of their own, those universities would undertake teaching and learning in churches, with academic activities involving both clerics and laypeople. Historians suggest that scholars of the day wore hoods and long robes as a means for staying warm in unheated church buildings. From those origins has evolved a colorful tradition rife with symbolism and meaning.

According to standards adopted by American universities, the cut of the gown signifies whether the wearer has a bachelor's, master's, or doctoral degree, with the doctoral robe adorned with three bars on each sleeve and front panels. The hood represents both the wearer's field of study and the institution that awarded his or her degree. Headwear, both the mortarboard cap and tam, and the tassel itself, may be assigned to represent a specific field of study.
