THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Star-Spangled Banner
Lyrics by Francis Scott Key
Music by John Stafford Smith
Vocals by Dominic W. DaSilva '24

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

From Finlandia

by Jean Sibelius

Vocals by Victoria R. LeBlanc '24

Mother of Truth, we proudly pledge to thee

Undying love and steadfast loyalty.

From thee we learned the wondrous work of God,

His goodness, grace, and holy power;

Clear hast thou shown what pathways must be trod;

All fearless now we brave life's hour!

Though failure frown, though kindly fortune smile,

Firm our advance; naught can us e'er beguile.

To honor bound, to love and virtue sworn,

Lift we our voice in full acclaim;

Our lives shall thee with noble deeds adorn;

Hail Providence! We praise thy name!

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

ARTHUR C. BROOKS, Ph.D.

PROFESSOR, HARVARD KENNEDY SCHOOL AND HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL
DOCTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Arthur C. Brooks is the Parker Gilbert Montgomery Professor of the Practice of Public and Nonprofit Leadership at the Harvard Kennedy School, and Professor of Management Practice at the Harvard Business School, where he teaches courses on leadership, happiness, and social entrepreneurship. He is also a columnist at The Atlantic, where he writes the popular “How to Build a Life” column. Dr. Brooks is the author of 13 books, including the 2023 #1 New York Times bestseller Build the Life You Want: The Art and Science of Getting Happier with co-author Oprah Winfrey, and the 2022 #1 New York Times bestseller From Strength to Strength: Finding Success, Happiness, and Deep Purpose in the Second Half of Life. He speaks to audiences all around the world about human happiness, and works to raise well-being within private companies, universities, public agencies, and community organizations.

Dr. Brooks began his career as a classical French hornist, leaving college at 19, touring and recording in the United States and Spain. In his late 20s, while still performing, he returned to school, earning a bachelor’s degree through distance learning. At 31, he left music and earned a master of philosophy degree and a Ph.D. in public policy analysis from the Rand Graduate School, during which time he worked as an analyst for the Rand Corporation’s Project Air Force, performing military operations research analysis. He then spent the next 10 years as a university professor, primarily at Syracuse University, where he taught economics and nonprofit management, and published 60 peer-reviewed articles and several books, including the textbook Social Entrepreneurship (2008). In 2009, he became the president of the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, D.C., one of the world’s most influential think tanks. Over the following decade, he was selected one of Fortune Magazine’s “World’s 50 Greatest Leaders” and was awarded seven honorary doctorates.

Originally from Seattle, Dr. Brooks lives outside Boston with his wife, Ester Munt-Brooks, who is a native of Barcelona. They have three adult children, Joaquim, Carlos, and Marina.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

WANDA S. INGRAM, Ed.D. '75

SENIOR ASSOCIATE DEAN OF STUDENT ACADEMIC SUCCESS, RETIRED
DOCTOR OF EDUCATION

Wanda S. Ingram, Ed.D. '75 was a role model and advocate for students and their scholarship throughout her three decades as an academic advisor and undergraduate dean at Providence College. She retired as senior associate dean of student academic success in July 2023.

Dr. Ingram was a member of Providence College's first graduating class of women and one of its first female graduates of color. Born in Baltimore and raised in Newport, Rhode Island, where her father served in the U.S. Navy and her mother worked on the base, Dr. Ingram came to PC at the invitation of the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship Program. She intended to study chemistry but eventually chose psychology. She was one of nine Black women in PC's first coeducational class.

After graduation, Dr. Ingram earned a master's degree in counseling psychology from the C.W. Post Center at Long Island University and joined the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, then Southeastern Massachusetts University, as a college counselor in the counseling center. She later was director of new student programs and executive assistant to the college president. While working at UMass, she was asked to join the committee planning PC's 75th anniversary celebration.

Dr. Ingram became assistant dean of undergraduate studies at PC in 1990. She served as first-year class dean, associate dean, senior associate dean, and interim dean of undeclared programs and director of academic advising. Known throughout campus as a change agent, she ensured that students received care, education, and mentorship. She met with new students and parents at Orientation and was part of the CARE Team (Campus Assessment, Response, and Evaluation) for most of her years at the college. In 2003, she earned a doctorate in educational leadership from Johnson & Wales University. She taught courses in PC's undergraduate, continuing education, and graduate programs and in the doctoral program at Johnson & Wales.

In 2022, when PC installed its own chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's premier academic honor society, Dr. Ingram was inducted as a foundation member. She co-chaired the Martin Luther King Jr. Convocation Committee and Then, Now, Next: Fifty Years of Women at PC. She is the co-author of Let the Journey Begin: A Parent's Monthly Guide to the College Experience, published by Houghton Mifflin in 2002.

Dr. Ingram resides in Cranston, Rhode Island. She is the mother of Keesha C. Ingram '19G and the grandmother of Amaya Faith Harvey.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

TROY ALEXANDER QUINN, DMA '05

ORCHESTRA CONDUCTOR, VOCALIST DOCTOR OF MUSIC

Lauded for his energetic and riveting conducting, Troy Alexander Quinn, DMA '05 is in his seventh season as music director of the Owensboro Symphony in Kentucky and in his sixth season as music director of the Venice Symphony in Florida. He also is music director of the Santa Monica Symphony in California and pops conductor of the Rhode Island Philharmonic. Until 2018, he was music director and conductor of the Juneau Symphony in Alaska.

Equally at home in popular music, Dr. Quinn has performed and recorded with some of the most popular artists of our time, including The Rolling Stones, The Beach Boys, Josh Groban, Jennifer Hudson, and Barry Manilow. An accomplished vocalist, he has collaborated with prominent maestros Helmuth Rilling, Carl St. Clair, and Dan Saunders of the Metropolitan Opera. He has worked extensively in the television and recording industries with appearances on GLEE, The Voice, and The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. He has performed at the Hollywood Bowl, Disney Hall, and Tanglewood. His recordings are heard in films, including "Call of the Wild" and "Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull."

Dr. Quinn grew up in Hamden, Connecticut, and discovered his love of musical performance and conducting while a student at Providence College. As a first-year student, he sang in musicals, including "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and joined the college's premier choir, I Cantori. He was a member of Special Guest, the all-male a capella group, as well as Friars Club. During a choir rehearsal in Guzman Hall chapel, a professor invited him to conduct the choir for the first time. At his senior recital, he conducted the choir and orchestra in Handel's Messiah. When he graduated, he was awarded the Rev. Leo S. Cannon Award for superior achievement in music. He taught on the PC faculty as a special lecturer in music from 2007-2010, beginning when he was 24 years old.

Dr. Quinn earned a master's degree with honors from the Manhattan School of Music, studying conducting with David Gilbert and voice with Metropolitan Opera singer Mark Oswald. He received a doctor of musical arts degree in conducting from the University of Southern California's Thornton School of Music and was named the outstanding doctoral graduate in his class. He now serves on the conducting faculty at that school.

Dr. Quinn resides in Los Angeles.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

ELIZABETH M. RUANE, M.Ed.

PHILANTHROPIST DOCTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Elizabeth M. Ruane, M.Ed. and her husband, Michael A. Ruane '71, '13Hon., have been among the college's most generous benefactors. Their philanthropy enabled construction of the Ruane Center for the Humanities, which opened in 2013 as a home for the college's signature Development of Western Civilization Program. They have supported academic excellence by providing scholarships for deserving students and endowing professorships. In addition, thanks to their support, the Ruane Friar Development Center was completed in 2018 as a state-of-the-art practice faculty for men's basketball.

Born in Longmeadow, Massachusetts, and raised in Swampscott, Mrs. Ruane graduated from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, in 1970, and earned a master's degree in education from the University of Massachusetts, Boston, in 1978. Before the birth of her children, she was a special education teacher in Salem. The Ruanes decided early in their marriage to make Providence College a beneficiary of their philanthropy in appreciation for the scholarship the college awarded Mr. Ruane.

After Mrs. Ruane was diagnosed with Hurthle Cell thyroid cancer in 2004, she became a founding member and benefactor of the International Thyroid Oncology Group. The organization consists of world-renowned physicians, scientists, and advocates who collaborate on treatment and cures for the most challenging thyroid cancers. The Ruanes also are members of the Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center Advisors and have funded two published papers on advances in thyroid cancer treatment. At the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, their philanthropy has enabled clinicians and scientists to provide care, pursue research, and train leaders in ophthalmology, otolaryngology, and head and neck surgery. Recognizing the importance of community hospitals, they also support Beverly Hospital in Massachusetts and Jupiter Medical Center in Florida.

The parents of three and the grandparents of seven, the Ruanes reside in Florida.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

RAYMOND L. SICKINGER, Ph.D. '71

PROFESSOR EMERITUS OF HISTORY DOCTOR OF EDUCATION

Raymond L. Sickinger, Ph.D. '71 began his relationship with Providence College as a student in 1967, and except for his years at the University of Notre Dame pursuing a doctorate in European history, has been part of the college community ever since. Awarded emeritus status upon his retirement in June 2021, he continues to teach courses at the college.

Dr. Sickinger was a first-generation college student from Cranston, Rhode Island. He was an honors student who later served as faculty representative to the Arts Honors Committee, one of his many administrative roles in addition to teaching. He chaired both the Department of History and the Department of Public and Community Service Studies and was director of the Feinstein Institute for Public Service. He was assistant dean of undergraduate studies and coordinator of the advising program for undeclared students. A longtime member of the Faculty Senate, he served as vice president and was a member of the Committee on Academic Rank and Tenure. For 38 years, he was PC's representative on the Rhodes Scholarship Foundation Committee. In 2021, he received the Service to Education Award from the PC Alumni Association.

His prolific scholarship includes his 2018 book, Antoine Frédéric Ozanam: Life, Lessons, Legacy, a biography of the founder of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, a worldwide Catholic lay organization committed to serving the poor. The book was awarded first place for biography from the Catholic Press Association of the United States and Canada.

Dr. Sickinger is a St. Vincent de Paul Society member of nearly 40 years, serving the poor of Rhode Island through direct outreach and works of mercy. Inspired by his grandfather's example, he joined the Society through his parish when he was a young PC professor in the 1970s, and he continues to serve through the conference at Our Lady of Good Help Parish in northern Rhode Island. Dr. Sickinger also served the organization in national leadership roles, including 20 years on the national board of directors. He is a member of the International Historical Commission and the National Formation Committee. He was president of the St. Vincent de Paul Society Diocesan Council of Rhode Island for six years and currently provides formation training to members.

Dr. Sickinger and his wife, Patricia, who reside in Mapleville, Rhode Island, were awarded the Diocesan Council of Providence St. Vincent de Paul Annual Lifetime Achievement Award in 2019. They are the parents of five, including three PC alumni.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia, rooted in traditions that began at 12th century European universities, conveys historical significance and specific meaning to contemporary academic ceremony. Often lacking buildings of their own, those universities would undertake teaching and learning in churches, with academic activities involving both clerics and laypeople. Historians suggest that scholars of the day wore hoods and long robes as a means for staying warm in unheated church buildings. From those origins has evolved a colorful tradition rife with symbolism and meaning.

According to standards adopted by American universities, the cut of the gown signifies whether the wearer has a bachelor's, master's, or doctoral degree, with the doctoral robe adorned with three bars on each sleeve and front panels. The hood represents both the wearer's field of study and the institution that awarded his or her degree. Headwear, both the mortarboard cap and tam, and the tassel itself, may be assigned to represent a specific field of study.
